THOUSANDS IN PARADE

Artillery Company from St. Asaph Military Camp to be in Big Parade Here Next Wednesday.

Representative Charles C. Carlin will preside at the big mass meeting which is to be held in this city on Wednesday afternoon next, Oct 24—Liberty Loan Day. It will be held immediately after the parade and will be addressed by a speaker of national prominence.

Arrangements have been made by which the Twelfth Artillery Company and band from the St. Asaph military camp will participate in the parade, which will include about one thousand men. The school children and Boy Scouts of Alexandria are also expected to take part in the parade, as well as citizens generally, which will assist in making it one of the largest and most imposing seen here in years. All merchants and business men of the city will be requested to close their places of business in order that the people connected with them may attend both the parade and meeting.

No effort is being spared by the Liberty Bond Committee to increase the sale of bonds in Alexandria, and the members are confidently hoping that the citizens as a whole will do their part by subscribing for the bonds and thus upholding the honor of the city.

To night a large banner will be swung across King street at the junction of Washington street, which will be flooded with light each night during the remainder of the campaign. The Boy Scouts will distribute literature throughout the city to the private residences, and if Mr. and Mrs. Alexandria and the little Alexandrians do their duty all will have reason to feel proud of the results attained when the campaign closes.

And remember this, you are not asked to give your money, but simply to lend it, at four per cent interest. The excuse that you cannot afford it will not apply, unless you are willing to confess that you cannot spare $5 a month from what you earn. With that amount you can buy a fifty dollar bond. And little newsboys are doing that.

ALLEGED GUNMEN HELD.

One Accused of Being Man Who Killed Policeman Eppley

Philadelphia, Oct. 20.—At the close of the coroner's inquest yesterday into the death of George A. Eppley, a policeman who was killed in the political feud in the Fifth ward here, Jacob Mascia, an alleged gunman from New York, was held without bail as the man who actually killed Eppley, and John Costello, also of New York, was committed as an accessory before the fact. They are two of the 18 men alleged to have been brought to this city for election work.

As a result of the killing of Eppley, Mayor Thomas B. Smith, a number of politicians and several policemen are under bail charged with conspiracy to murder and violation of the election laws.

Besides Mascia and Costello, five other alleged gunmen captured in New York are in the county prison here.

Fire at Mount Jackson.

Woodstock, Va., Oct. 20.—Fire threatened to wipe out the town of Mount Jackson, Shenandoah county, Thursday evening. The town reservoir was empty, and chemical engines from Harrisonburg, Woodstock and Edinburg were called in order to save the town from destruction. The flames started from the vulcanizer in Carroll's Garage. The buildings destroyed were Carroll's Garage, mill and feed store; office of Dr. D. O. Foley; millinery store of Mrs. Sam Smootz; Council Chamber, with Mount Jackson jail in basement, and law office of Wallace and Williamson, on first floor. The contents of all buildings, except the garage and feed store were saved. Owing to the Shenandoah County Fair which is being held in Woodstock, there were few people to fight the fire and no water, and the fact that the town was saved is a miracle.

WOMEN "ON THE JOB"

Hold a Meeting in Competition With Jubiter Pluvius Who Fails to Drown Their Enthusiasm.

Something wetter than water will have to be made use of in order to dampen the enthusiasm of the women of Alexandria who are engaged in the sale of Liberty Loan bonds. Jubiter Pluvius got out his big sprinkler just before the hour arrived for the ladies to hold their meeting at the Surprise theater yesterday afternoon and proceeded to demonstrate how much water he could let down in a given length of time. No one attempted to stop him and he was given full sway, but the Alexandria ladies, well, they went right ahead and held that meeting just as though the state of Virginia was really dry.

Rev. Edgar Carpenter of Grace Episcopal church, called the meeting to order and introduced Mrs. Kate Waller Barrett, who gave a short but forcible address while the audience was awaiting the arrival of Mrs. Antoinette Funk of Chicago, who had been delayed in reaching this city from Washington, owing to the severe rainstorm.

Although the rain kept coming down in torrents quite a large audinece of the ladies of the city had braved the storm. Among them were clerks from Bendheim's, Elliott's and other stores whose proprietors had granted them permission to attend the meeting.

Miss Rose M. MacDonald introduced Mrs. Funk shortly after the arrival of the latter. The speaker went straight to her subject and spoke very interestinglyy. She said that men win battles, but it takes money to win a war, and urged the women to economize—on clothes. Think of that, coming from a woman, too. (Men, the women are getting down to real facts in this business. Are we, as men, doing as well?)

Continuing Mrs. Funk said that a million of our men had laid aside their usual clothes, put on uniforms and offered their lives to their country, and suggested that it might be well for the ladies to do without some of their fashionable, expensive clothing in order to help buy bonds and thus do their bit. She also pleaded with everyone to go out and sell at least one bond to someone else, and said that five dollars a month would do it.

Inspiring music was furnished by the Twelfth Field Artillery band from St. Asaph military camp. Refreshments were served the band at the conclusion of the meeting.

Today the ladies have been busy also. A Liberty booth was arranged to be opened at the city market at which members of the committee were to be in attendance so that everybody visiting the market might have an opportunity to purchase a bond if they desired.

TWENTY-SEVEN KILLED.

German Airships Make Another Raid on London Last Night.

London, Oct. 20.—Twenty-seven persons were killed and fifty-three injured in last night's raid over eastern and northeast London district, Lord French anounced today.

The damage done by the raiders, it was officially stated, was confirmed to houses and business premises.

Swift German battle planes convoyed Zeppelins in the attack.

There were between five and eight aircraft in the raiding fleet and bombs were dropped over a wide area, although the attackers did not seem to have any definite objective.

A terrific barrage fire almost completely surrounded this city and the sky was alight with flares from searchlights, bursting shrapnel projectiles and star shells.

As soon as the alarm was given people began taking refuse in the bamb proofs and the underground railways. There was no undue excitement however, and in some instances the police had to forcibly compel to seek shelter.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 20.—Elihu Root yesterday afternoon spent some time with Secretary of State Lansing, during which he reiterated his conviction that a new, stronger Russia will emerge from the chaos which now exists throughout the country.

POLICE MAKE DESCENT.

Alleged Gambling House at Corner of Duke and Henry Streets Invaded Early Last Night.

Chief Goods, Sergeant Wilkinson and Officers Roland and Nevitt early last night entered the house on the southeast corner of Duke and Henry streets, armed with a search warrant and a commonwealth's warrant charging the proprietor, Benjamin Waters, with violating the prohibition law and with allowing gambling on his premises. As soon as the officers entered the electric lights went out, but that did not dever the police, as they continued their progress up stairs, where they found Waters and three men. Several packs of playing cards and a bottle containing about one drink were found. No one was engaged in gambling at the time. Waters and two of the men were summoned to the Police Court this morning, but the fourth man was absent.

The officers in their statements said the wife of a railroad man had complained to them that her husband was a visitor at Waters's place, where, she alleged, gambling was conducted. The officers also testified that when Waters occupied another house in the neighborhood which was raided by officers that the lights were extinguished as soon as they entered.

Waters, in his defense, denied that gambling was carried on in his house. He said he sold soft drinks, and the small quantity of liquor found in his house last night was no evidence he sold stimulants, as he was allowed a quart a month. also that innocent games were played with cards, but not for money. As to the electric lights suddenly ceasing to burn, that was something which often happened, and was probably caused by changing machinery at the power house.

Justice Caton in summing up the case, said there was no evidence to show that gambling was being carried on when the officers entered the place, nor that liquor was being sold although the police had proceeded in a proper manner. He therefore dismissed the charge against Waters, and his cards and liquor were returned to him.

PRICES STILL ADVANCES.

Slim Attendance of Country People in Market This Morning While Quotations Soar.

Comparatively few people from the rural districts appeared in market this morning, and the display of country produce was necessarily meagre. As might have been expected, the sellers in most cases wanted prices which prevailed in Ladysmith during the Boer war. Some country people wanted 60 cents per dozen for eggs, although 55 cents was the price generally obtained, the figures of last Saturday. Butter was unchanged and firm at 55 cents per pound.

There were no material changes in the prices of vegetables. One country woman brought a baked chicken to market, ready for the table. She wanted $1.35 for the inviting bird. She also displayed some home made ginger cakes.

As might have been expected, there was no downward turn in the prices of meats. They were as firm as ever.

There was an aboundance of fish on the benches mostly of the salt-water variety, and prices were unchanged. Many rockfish were also on sale while the market seemed glutted with catfish.

The temperature had taken a decided drop since yesterday, and the comparatively few buyers who were present hurried from bench to bench anxiously inquiring prices, while the bleak winds and the high rates were suggestive of the approach of winter, when still higher prices for articles to keep up the fires of life will prevail as well as those for fuel to keep the Frost King from our hearths.

Marguerite Clark Appears as a Boy in "The Amazons."

In these days of war and adventure, when the whole country is honoring its sons who go to fight, there is many a girl who envies them in her heart. In Marguerite Clark's latest Famous Players-Paramount picture, "The Amazons," Miss Clark appears as one of three girls who has been brought up as a boy. They wear boy's clothes, swim, ride, fence and box like boys, and are altogether swagger and adorable. "The Amazons," will be shown at the Richmond Theatre tonight.

At the Surprise Gail Kane will be seen in a picture of warning to those who hold material things higher than love "The Serpent's Tooth."

LOOTED BY U-BOATS.

Crews Tell of Three Attacks on Return to America.

An Atlantic Port, Oct. 20.—Attacks on three American sailing ships by German submarines were reported by their crews who reached here yesterday on a French liner. Capt. Mortensen, of the three masted American bark Paolina of 1,198 tons, said that September 25 when his vessel was 140 miles from Brest, she was fired on by a U-boat but not hit. The Germans then came alongside, looted her and sank her with bombs, he said. The captain and his crew escaped in the small boats and were picked up by a French destroyer. The Paolina had a cargo of oil and steel wire. She was owned by Whitney and Bodden Co.

Another crew, who said they were from the American schooner Crockett from Philadelphia, reported that three months ago their ship was torpedoed by a submarine near Brest but did not sink. The Germans looted her and then abandoned her and later they said she was towed into Brest and sold. She had a cargo of oil. Also on the same liner was the crew of the four masted schooner Henry Lippitt, 859 tons, of Philadelphia whose sinking had previously been reported.

SAND BURIES SCHOOL BOY.

Father Finds Body Many Hours After Lad Had Been Missed.

Lewes, Del., Oct. 20.—Thomas, 9 year old son of Captain Thomas E. Lynch, of Midway, smothered to death Thursday afternoon when he fell or jumped into a deep hole in the edge of a hill in Senator Harland M. Joseph's woods near Midway School. The sand caved in on the boy and covered him.

He had left school at the close of the day, telling other boys that he was going to gather some cat tails. When he failed to appear at home at the usual time his parents became alarmed and began searching for him, until 2 o'clock yesterday morning, when his father discovered this hole in the hill. As it looked as if there had been a recent caving of the sand, he began to dig and soon found the boy's body.

Last Ride Fatal.

Federalsburg, Md., Oct. 20.—Harold H. Fountain, 22 years old, son of William R. Fountain, a farmer, living near here, was fatally injured in a motorcycle accident Thursday night, while on his way to Easton to trade his motorcycle for an automobile. Just after leaving Bethlehem he failed to see a wagon loaded with canned goods come out of a woods road. His motorcycle struck the rear wheel, throwing him on the stone road, crushing his left arm, side and leg and injuring him internally. He was carried to Easton Hospital, where he died Thursday.

U. S. TRANSPORT IS SUNK

Antilles Torpedoed by German Submarine Last Wednesday—Seventy Men Are Missing.

Official announcement by the Navy Department last night states that the homeward bound army transport Antilles was torpedoed on Wednesday in the war zone and sank within five minutes. Seventy out of 237 are missing.

Secretary Daniels authorizes the following statement:

"The Department is in receipt of a dispatch from Vice Admiral Sims which states that the steamship Antilles, an army transport, was torpedoed on October 17 while returning to this country from foreign service. This vessel was under convoy of American patrol vessels at the time.

"The torpedo which struck the Antilles was not seen, nor was the submarine which fired it. The torpedo hit abreast of the engine room bulkhead, and the ship sank within five minutes.

"One hundred and sixty-seven persons out of about two hundred and thirty-seven on board the Antilles were saved. About 70 men are missing. All the naval officers and officers of the army who were on board the ship at the time were saved, as were the officers of the ship, with the exception of the following:

"There were about 33 of the army enlisted personnel on board, of whom seventeen were saved. The names of the missing of the army enlisted personnel and of the merchant crew of the ship cannot be given until the muster roll in France of those on board has been consulted. As soon as the Department is in receipt of further details concerning the casualties they will be made public immediately."

New York, Oct. 20.—The Antilles a freight and passenger steamship of 6,878 tons gross, owned by the Southern Pacific Steamship Company (Morgan Line), was one of the crack American coast liners. She plied between New Orleans and New York and had carried thousands of persons to the Mardi Gras ceelbration in the Southern city. The vessel was taken over by the government as a transport early in the war.

Captain H. F. Boyde, master of the Antilles, retained his command when the vessel entered the government service, as did most of his officers.

The crew as recruited by the quartermaster's department, included many of the men who had served on the steamship when she was in the merchant service.

SHOT MAN TO SHOW SKILL.

Soldier's Wanton Act Against Negro Told at Riot Inquiry.

East St. Louis, Ill., Oct. 20.—Wanton shooting at negroes by soldiers on patrol duty during the race riots here last May was testified to before the Congressional Committee investigating the riots yesterday. Charles Roger, president of a large chemical company here, told the committee that he saw a uniformed soldiers shoot a negro who was standing with a group of his fellows a block away, merely to show some white men, who were twitting him, that he could not shoot.

Mr. Roger testified that a man in a crowd of white remarked to one of the soldiers:

"What are you doing with that gun? You can't shoot."

"The hell I can't." Roger quoted the soldier as saying.

Whereupon the soldier fired into the crowd of negroes, and one of the negroes fell, wounded, testified the witness.

Mr. Roger said he told Governor Frank O. Lowden of that and similar incidents, but that no special effort was made to learn the identity of the soldiers.

Frank A. Hunter, general manager of the Swift and Company packing plant, testified that the riots had driven 40 per cent of their negro employees from work and that Government orders are being delayed.

At the time of the riots, he said, railroads stopped handling freight for six days. He said he believed the riot was caused by ill feeling of union men against negro laborers imported from the South.

WOMEN AND THE LIBERTY LOAN

The splendid manner in which the women's Auxiliary of the Liberty Loan Committee has taken hold of the work here in Alexandria is highly commendatory. It not only sounds a new note in the campaign in this city but has lent added force to the slogan "Buy a Liberty Bond," and the Gazette takes sincere pleasure in calling attention to the very effective efforts the ladies are putting forth.

As an exchange has very truthfully said, the shadow of the great war already lies heavy in the eyes of the women of America. Theirs the dread, the fear, the apprehension of grief and suffering that have been the portion of woman throughout the centuries when armies rise and march away to bugle and drum. To them all this stir and bustle of marshaling men is the end of many things. Those whom they love and those that love them are leaving for France. In the grim present ideals of devotion and sacrifice become realities of daily life.

The women of Alexandria have grasped the meaning of the Liberty Loan Campaign. It has made an appeal to them direct. Failure means national disaster and writes down the patriotism of the United States as second to niggard thrift and miserliness, as placing the figure of Liberty behind the grill of the dollar mark. It means more. It means the crippling of our forces abroad, the weakening of our fighting arm, the certainty of defeat before the battle is joined. The pride and the fear that drag women to the ramparts and the pitch cauldrons when assaulting hosts crash against the city gates have been aroused. They are the heart of the nation and that heart has been stirred. They who will suffer most by any deprivation that may result from heeding the call of the Government plead with men to give, give, give. They will not have a defeated nation. They are shaming the financial slackers to their duty. They are doing that which women have done before. They are showing the way pointing the goal. With the women of the land enlisted in the Loan Campaign, success seems nearer. There will be no man who will dare falter in his duty if the nation's womanhood stands waiting to pin upon him the slacker's badge of disgrace. Woman's scorn has driven men to their task before and will do so again. The effect of the labor of those women of the Auxiliary can not be measured in the subscriptions which they turn in. It goes far beyond that. The knowledge that the women of the city are in this campaign to win, works with an unseen force. It rouses the sluggard, strikes sleep from the eyes of slumbering money bags and goads hesitation to a decision. They are doing a splendid work—work that women can do best. They are bringing men to their senses and a proper spirit. Many are already enlisted in the movement and the numbers are increasing. And the limitation of the effectiveness of this auxiliary will only be reached when every woman in Alexandria who can do so shall be counted as a worker. When that time comes there will be few slackers among the male population.

SINKING OF THE ANTILLES.

The United States transport Antilles on her return trip from France to the United States was torpedoed by a German submarine and over sixty Americans are missing, presumably drowned in what is now known as the war zone. While our country did not expect to enter this European war without incurring some losses, the fact that Americans have been drowned upon the high sea by a fierce foe has sent indignation into the breast of every true American.

The battle of Lexington in 1776 brought forth the firery eloquence of Patrick Henry in the Virginia House of Burgesses and the same spirit which caused the illustrious son of the Old Dominion to raise the battle cry which was echoed throughout the colonies during the next seven years is now heard from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Arctic to the tropics.

The cry, "Remember the Alamo!" set our country, then small, aflame when it became known that Colonel Davy Crockett and others had been massacred by the Mexican General Santa Anna.

The firing upon the steamer Star of the West in Charlestown harbor and later the attack upon Fort Sumter set the entire northern portion of the country afire in the early part of sixty-one, causing stampedes to the recruiting booths. While many in the north were prone to respect southern rights, the Stars and Stripes had been made a target. This was enough.

Our nation has long been up against a serious proposition. Lovers of peace, as we are, our executive resorted to every honorable means to keep the United States out of this world conflict, while the fact stared him in the fact that should the barbaric Huns succeed in defeating England and France, our country was to be made to foot the war expenses of Germany, and that, too, according to her assessment. She had already fixed the amount at fifty billion dollars. Hence the axe was already laid at the tree of American liberty.

Early last July M. B. Harlow, formerly a resident of Alexandria, invited a number of business men of this city to dine with him at his country home at "Virginia Manor." Congressman Carlin, from this district, was also one of the guests. Much of the conversation was in reference to the war. Among other things Mr. Carlin said there was but one way to subdue Germany, and that was to fight that nation. It could not be starved. He uttered wisdom on that occasion, although some seemed to think that peace was about to come in other ways.

Present conditions may be likened to the rustic who came to a river he must needs cross. He noticed that the tide was running out, and he quietly stretched himself upon the bank supposing the river's bed would eventually become dry. Some people in this country are waiting for Germany's resources to fail her.

NEW COUNCILMEN.

After several ineffectual efforts to obtain a quorum, there was a meeting of the Common Council last night notwithstanding the unpropitious weather. Two vacancies were filled at the meeting, Joseph M. Armstrong having been elected to fill the vacancy in the second ward caused by the death of Henry K. Field and Silas Devers from the fourth ward to take the place of Albert Bryan, resigned.

Messrs. Armstrong and Devers are identified with the business interests of the city, and will doubtless devote the necessary time and labor to the positions to which they have been elected.

The death of Henry K. Field deprived the city of an earnest and devoted public servant, a man who for years had labored faithfully in both boards of the City Council, and the resignation of Albert Bryan, who had for a long time been a public servant as Councilman or member of the Board of Police Commissioners, was received with regret. Their successors, however, will also prove diligent and faithful as public servants.

Walter C. Foster, member of the Common Council from the first ward, also resigned. His successor will be chosen next Tuesday night, when the regular meetings of both boards will be held. A joint session will be held on that occasion, when, it is expected, an election of school trustees will be held. The terms of Messrs. Luther H. Thompson, from the first ward; P. M. Bradshaw, from the second; Carroll Pierce, from the fourth; and S. C. Moore, from the fourth, have expired. So far no competitors for these positions have appeared and those now holding them will doubtless be re-elected. C. R. Yates is a candidate for trustee from the first ward, to fill the position formerly occupied by E. M. Anderson, who now represents the first ward in the Board of Aldermen. Mr. Yates was a school trustee several years ago.

NEWS OF THE DAY

The family of Nicholas Romanoff, former Emperor of Russia, now procures its food supplies by the use of cards. The authorities in the Tobolsk district are issuing food cards, and the Romanoff's must obtain their food the same as other citizens.

Mrs. Mary Ball, a widow, mother of twenty-four children, is the defendant in a $50,000 alienation suit brought in Pittsburgh, Pa., yesterday by Mrs. Eliza Harley mother of eleven children. She declares Mrs. Ball alienated the affections of her husband, Thomas Harley. Until recently the Harleys and Bells had been friends for many years. Several years ago a realty boom made both families wealthy. Then Mrs. Harley began, she avers, to notice a particular fondness for the widow on the part of her husband.

A Zurich dispatch to the Paris Matin says the old wound of former King Constantine of Greece has reopened, and that an operation was performed at the Sauerbruch clinic in Zurich yesterday. His condition is said to be most grave. Two operations were performed on Constantine in 1915, the first not having resulted in healing of the wound, and for a time his life was despaired of. Reports were current at the time that he had been stabbed, but they were denied and it was said he was suffering from pleurisy.

Dr. David, the Socialist deputy, speaking at the Wuerzburg conference, said: "Our U-boats have not protected us against a fourth winter of war. They will not in a few months or even one or two years, force England to peace, as the Pan-Germans say they will. We uttered warning against an unrestricted U-boat campaign. The consequences of it have come to pass, and now this campaign must be pursued with all our strength. But military pressure alone will not bring peace."

"The journey of Emperor William and Foreign Secretary von Kuehlmann should be regarded in a certain sense as a preliminary step toward peace," says the Neueste Nachrichten of Munich. The Emperor's conversation at Sofia and Constantinople certainly mean the examination of every possibility in that direction.

Mr. William Madison Tavenner, a prominent farmer residing near Forestville, Fairfax county, died last week of an intestinal cancer. Mr. Tavenner, was born and reared in Loudoun county, where he spent practically all his life, with the exception of ten years in Kansas and the last five years in Fairfax. The deceased was sixty-nine years old.

Helaire Carriere was hanged in the State penitentiary at Baton Rouge, La., at 12:10 p. m., yesterday for the murder in July, 1916, of Marion L. Swords sheriff of St. Landry parish. Carriere protested his innocence of the murder to the last, claiming the shot which killed Sheriff Swords was fired by one of the deputies in the sheriff's posse which attempted to capture Carriere in the Mallet woods section near Opelousas, La. He eluded several hundred searchers for a month and was captured only after being seriously wounded. Last Wednesday night in an attempt to escape from the New Orleans parish prison, Carriere wrenched a piece of pipe from the plumbing in his cell and fought more than an hour with the warden and five deputies before being subdued and Thursday night in the death cell at the penitentiary he slashed his throat from ear to ear with a safety razor blade which he had secreted in his scapular, in an effort to cheat the gallows.

Advices reaching Washington yesterday from Switzerland say the people of Strassburg, Metz and other points in Alsace-Lorraine responded with a general outburst of anti-German feeling to attempts to float part of the new German war loan and celebrate the birthday of Von Hindenburg. In spite of the terror that the Prussian military authorities have produced in the country, on the occasion of the birthday of Von Hindenburg October 2, many posters bearing the likeness of the marshal were scratched out and torn down over night in Strassburg. At Metz the official advertisements and posters of the new war loan also were torn down and so far the outraged German authorities have failed to find any one to punish.

Indication of a final drive by the French north of the Aisne before winter sets in are in actual operation. The last 24 hours were marked by a series of sharp thrusts against the German Crown Prince's positions south of Laon, which brought the French attackers tangible results. The Teuton lines were penetrated near Braye-en-Laonnioise and La Faux Hill. The 100 prisoners brought back turned out to belong to no fewer than four different divisions —8,000 men, which shows that the Germans retain a heavy concentration of troops in that sector. A successful French local attack also was carried out, between the Aisne and Miette serious losses being inflicted upon the Germans.

The small Italian submarine San Giorgia has arrived safely at Archangel from its base in Italy, according to official cables received in Washington from Rome. The trip was made entirely under its own power and the venture is regarded as a great feat. It is possible this is a forerunner of a flotilla of Italian submarines that will be sent to aid the Russians.

RATTLER SPITS IN HIS FACE.

Climber Pokes Visage Into Nest of Seven as he Raises Above Rock.

Hawstone, Pa., Oct. 20.—The bloodchilling experience of condensing the vapor of a rattlesnake's venomous breath as it struck at but missed him befell the face of Alva Reigle Thursday.

Reigle was drawing himself to the top of a quarry rock, but no sooner had his head surmounted the level than it encountered a nest of seven of the dreaded reptiles.

Though late in the season and a bit torpid, the snakes had had enough sunshine to be full of fight, and the leader promptly struck at Reigle. He missed by an eighth of an inch but blew his spit into Reigle's icy face as his venom-dripping jaws shot by.

Companions killed five of the snakes. They had Reigle's permission to go ahead without him.

MONEY SPENT FREELY.

Germany is Turning Loose Millions in Neutral Countries.

London, Oct. 20.—Germany is pouring vast amounts of money into neutral countries for propaganda designed to sway public opinion. According to authoritative information its expenditures for this work will total more than $80,000,000 on the present scale of lavishness. Much of the money is spent in subsidizing and influencing newspapers. In a number of cases Germans bought newspapers outright and managed them from behind the scenes. Large amounts are being paid agents to keep peace agitation going. It was learned today that on one occasion the German minister to Mexico, von Eckhardt, subsidized a Mexican newspaper by furnishing it newsprint paper and securing for it, tolls free, the German communique and other "German made news."

In return this newspaper was to feature the German communique on the first page and to bury the allied official reports inconspicuously on an inside page. German made editorials were to be carried. In the year before China entered the war authoritative information is that Germany spent $2,000,000 in that country through its agents, seeking to influence the Chinese public against Japan and the allies. One of the mistakes made was the blundering translation into Chinese of a pamphlet designed to promote anti-ally feeling. The clumsy wording of the pamphlet aroused the indignation of the Chinese.

BRITISH ON DRIVE.

Typhoon Fire Blazes Way for New Thrust by Haig's Army.

London, Oct. 20.—An artillery battle "of all nations" is raging today over a thirty-mile front in Belgium.

British, French, Belgian, Portuguese, and German guns are in action. Again has the cannonade on the west Flanders front risen to such a tensity of "typhoon fire" that it can be heard in England.

The big gun duel which was formerly confined to the area northeast and southeast of Ypres now extends almost to Nieuport. The firing is especially severe around Ramseapelle, in the inundated district where the Belgian lines stand.

(Ramseapelle is south of Nieuport and only three miles from the North sea coast).

It is generally predicted by British military experts that another infantry drive by Field Marshal Haig's army is about due.

AN EXPERIMENT IN DEMOCRACY

Will the American People Enlist in the Food Conservation Campaign and thus Show Their Loyalty?

Nowehere is the program of the Food Pledge Week Campaign, October 21 to 28, inaugurated under the auspices of the United States Food Administration, being watched with keener interest than in Washington. The principle involved in the appeal to the people is one concerning which there has been division of opinion. On the one hand, there were those who from the first insisted that food control must be necessarily autocratic. The view was that the proper way to conserve the nation's supply of wheat was to pass laws limiting consumption. The United States Food Administration, however, declined to take this view. Herbert Hoover finally decided in favor of an appeal to the people in what he termed an "unparalleled adventure in democracy."

Will Americans Cooperate.

The position of the United States Food Administrator was that if the American public would voluntarily co-operate in a food program, designed for the purpose of meeting the nation's food needs, the vexatious and frequently oppressive legislation found necessary in other countries would not be found necessary in this country while the United States Food Administration's plan for making the people the ultimate food administrators excites interest here, it is likewise a subject of lively interest in London.

You Can Help Avoid Drastic Food Control.

If, as a result of the appeal to the country, the American people voluntarily agree to curtail the consumption of these products essential to the maintenance of the military establishments of the United States and its allies, the danger of drastic and autocratic food legislation in this country will have passed. It is upon that phase of the situation that interest centers. In all of his recent utterances, Herbert Hoover, has insisted that the Food Pledge Week Campaign offered to the public a chance adequately to protect itself against the danger of bread cards and meat cards and all that sort of thing.

Food Substitution but not Reduction, Desired.

The principal back of the Food Pledge Week drive is not that there should be a reduction in consumption, but rather that there be a substitution in the diet of the people, that will increase the food reserves of those products that must, as a matter of military necessity, be exported. The people of this country are asked to eat more corn, rice, barley, rye, fish, vegetables, and reduce as much as possible the consumption of wheat, meat, sugar and dairy products. If this scheme of popular food control can be made effective, autocratic food control legislation becomes unnecessary. If the appeal to the people fails, and war conditions continue, autocratic food control becomes inevitable.

SCHOOL IS STORMED.

Police Beaten Up By Mothers in New York Riots.

New York, Oct. 20.—Two thousand screaming women and children, urged on by a few men, rioted yesterday in and around Public school No. 175, at Blake and Hopkinson avenues, in Brooklyn.

They attacked two bus-loads of policemen, sent two patrolmen to St. Mary's Hospital with broken legs, cut open the head of a third policeman with an iron bolt, smashed many windows of the school building, took possession of it, and triumphantly led away the 3,184 pupils.

Many women were slightly hurt by mis-thrown stones and broken glass, and some children were bruised. A large stone crashed through a fourth floor window and fell in the midst of a kindergarten class, but did not hit any of the children.

This was by all odds the most serious of all the Gary school riots that have spread from Manhattan to the Bronx and from the Bronx to Brooklyn.

The situation has become so grave that President William G. Willcox, of the Board of Education, has asked special police protection for thirty-two schools—five in Manhattan, twelve in the Bronx and fifteen in Brooklyn.

NEGRESS' JEALOUS RAGE.

Shoots Down Man She Accused in Saloon He Once Ran.

Atlantic City, Oct. 20.—Entering a barroom at North Carolina and Baltic avenues, in a jealous frenzy early this morning, Sadie Mitchell, colored, accused Charles P. Sessoms, also colored, of paying attention to other women, and when Sessoms angrily waved her aside she drew a revolver and shot him at close range. The bullet passed through Sessom's stomach and coming out of his back lodged in the woodwork behind him. Sessoms fell unconscious, and the woman swooned over his body.

Patrolman Mathias heard the shots and had Sessoms removed to the City Hospital, where he is dying. The woman, who is 30 years old, was arrested. Sing Walker, the bartender, was arrested as a material witness. Sessoms is married and is the father of one child. His wife resides in Boston, and the Mitchell woman was employed as his housekeeper. Sessoms was formerly proprietor of the saloon in which he was shot, but his license was recently revoked because of disorderly practices in the place.

TRAINS ARE RUNNING.

For First Time in Twenty-Four Days, Argentina Has Service.

Buenos Aires, Oct. 20.—For the first time in twenty-four days trains were running in Argentina yesterday, marking the government's successful step in combating the general strike. All those in operation today were under strong military guard. Even if the present paralysis of business on account of the strike is ameliorated leaders predict another similar movement about the first of the year. Presumably the government, having started trains running will now turn its attention to other industries tied up by the strikers.

WHOLE REGIMENT DESERTS.

Austrians Go Over to Roumanian Army With Officers.

An entire Austrian regiment, with officers at its head, and carrying their own arms, has surrendered to Roumanians along the Russo-Roumanian front, according to cables received yesterday in Washington.

The report stated that the regiment was composed of almost entirely of Mohammedan Serbs from Bosnia. The colonel declared that they were all Jugoslavs, and surrendered voluntarily in order to enlist in the Jugoslav legion now being formed out of the reorganized Serb army.

The recent agreement between the Serbian government at Corfu and the Jugoslav committee in London, with respect to the establishment of a Jungoslav state, is being received with enthusiasm by the Slav population in Austro-Hungary, the colonel stated.

The officers of the regiment declared they expected fresh desertions, especially among the Czechs and Catholic Croatian soldiers.

From People You Know—From Alexandria Citizens.

The greatest skeptic can hardly fail to be convinced by evidence like this. It is impossible to produce better proof of merit than the testimony of residents of Alexandria, of people who can be seen at any time. Read the following case of it.

KEPT HER AWAKE

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: "For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful.

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night . . . I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieved me until I took Cardui . . .

I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again . . . I decided I would try Cardui . . . By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well." If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial. NC-133

BULGARS SEEK PEACE.

Feelers Put Out on Subject of Post War Relations.

Copenhagen, Oct. 20.—While Emperor William and King Ferdinand of Bulgaria have been exchanging assurances of the unshakable loyalty of Bulgaria and Germany to each other and of the permanent nature of the alliance of the two countries, Bulgarian agents abroad have been endeavoring to get into touch with the Entente Powers on the subject of peace and subsequent relations. Their efforts are declared to be inspiring by apprehension that Germany and Austria-Hungary, particularly the latter, may not be overzealous in defending Bulgaria's interest at the peace conference, as well as by a desire on Bulgaria's part to escape from revolving in an exclusively German orbit after the war.

A Bulgarian representative recently sought and obtained an opportunity in a neutral European capital to lay before the Entente governments the special desire of his country with regard to a peace settlement and in a one-sided conversation explained Bulgarian aspirations to regain an independent political status as soon as the war was concluded and resume cordial relations with the Entente powers. As the case was presented, in short, the Central Europe idea of an economic league, in which Bulgaria would play a comparatively minor role, does not appeal to the Bulgarian mind.

Attempts are also being made to get before the public in America and in the Entente countries a defense of Bulgarian pretensions to Macedonia and the Dobrudja, the suggestion even being made from the Bulgarian side that Serbia should be compensated with Austrian territory from Bosnia and Herzegovina, a suggestion which is pointed to as illustrative of the attitude of many Bulgarians toward their own allies.

The correspondent has of late heard, of considerable ill-feeling between the Bulgarians and their allies. Complaints are made that Bulgarian divisions were compelled to mach long distances on foot, while favored German troops rolled past them in trains, this favoritism exciting particular bitterness on the part of a select Bulgarian division from the capital.

RICHMOND PASSES GOAL.

Oversubscribes Allotment of $14,100,000 by Rolling up Sum of $14,291,000.

Passing its maximum allotment of $14,100,000 to the second issue of the Liberty loan bonds, with the close of the campaign seven days distant, Richmond yesterday afternoon set an inspiring example, for all other cities of the country, and bankers were determined that the oversubscription in this city to the current issue of the bonds shall be as great, in comparison, as was the first. Shortly before 3 o'clock subscriptions to the bonds aggregated $14,291,000, and by the close of business the total was approximately $15,000,000, but official figures were not available last night.

Members of the executive committee, of which John Kerr Branch, president of the Merchants' National Bank, is chairman, were in their daily conference when the report was made. Great satisfaction was expressed by the bankers at the record made by Richmond, which is the first city of prominence in the United States to pass its maximum apportionment. Telegrams were immediately dispatched to William G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury, and John Skeleton Williams, Comptroller of the Currency, announcing the success of the campaign in Richmond.

MOSCOW TO BE CAPITAL.

Russian Provisional Government Soon Will Leave Petrograd.

Petrograd, Oct. 20.—The government has determined definitely to move to Moscow in the very near future.

The newspapers published an official announcement that the evacuation of the fortified port of Reval, on the Baltic, at the entrance to the gulf of Finland, has begun.

The schools at Reval have been closed. The inhabitants of the city are being sent to the interior of Russia.

Announcement that the government will move to Moscow was made today by M. Kishkin, minister of public welfare.

"Though a definite date has not been set it will be in the very near future," said M. Kishkin, in announcing the Government's intention to move, in an interview in the Bourse Gazette. "No one is now permitted to go to Moscow except on Government business," he continued. "The proposed evacuation has been under way by the Government departments for a long time."

The Government is to occupy one of the buildings in the Kremlin, the ancient capital.

The preliminary parliament will convene in Petrograd Saturday and move to Moscow later.

The determination to move the Government is said to be in keeping with the belief of the chief of staff that Petrograd is now in the direct war zone. The Government takes the position that it is merely following the precedent set by the French Government when it moved to Bordeaux, the first year of the war.

The announcement of the decision is to be made to the preliminary parliament at its first meeting. Quarters are to be found in Moscow for the Parliament and also for the diplomatic corps.

The correspondent was informed Thursday night by diplomatic representatives here that they had not been officially notified of the decision. They understood, however, that the Government has sought quarters for them in Moscow in the event of an emergency.

The sailors of the main Baltic fleet are reported to be keen to fight. The men at Kronstadt are demanding that the ships be sent out to meet the Germans but the government is understood to have taken the position that as the enemy forces are of superior size it would be disastrous to leave Petrograd undefended.

HOLLAND IN PINCH.

Does Not Dare to Antagonize Allies Just Now.

Washington, Oct. 20.—The other day when Secretary of State Lansing had his regular conference with the newspaper men, almost every question asked him had to do with the Dutch ships in our harbors, and whether any action so far taken or contemplated was likely to lead to a declaration of war by Holland.

The answer in each case was an emphatic "No."

The United States, in refusing to permit the Dutch ships to have some of our precious coal and in refusing to license those ships to carry our precious grain to Dutch ports, is acing strictly within its rights.

But this war talk at the present stage of the game is all bunk anyhow. Hard pressed as little Holland is by Germany, which is growling for food, she is in even worse case when it comes to antagonizing the Allies.

Hudson river and inner New York bay are filled with Dutch ships. There are a lot of others in the ports of England, Australia, Japan, New Zealand, and China. If Holland got into the war on Germany's side she would almost at once lose the bulk of her commercial fleet and all of her colonies.

Dutch Guiana, in South America, and the Dutch West Indies, would probably fall to our lot. The vast empire of the East Indies would be quickly taken over by England and Japan.

And Holland itself would be subject to speedy attack. Her great commercial cities are Rotterdam, on one of the mouths of the Rhine, and Amsterdam, inside the Zuider Zee. They would come under the guns of the Allied fleets. Holland itself would afford a vantage ground where the Allies could land men and attack the German armies in Belgium in the rear and flank, while the Anglo-Belgo-French armies kept them busy in Flanders.

Six persons are believed to have drowned last night when a government truck was driven off a bridge into Fox River at Green Bay, Wis., by Robert W. Henry, of Chicago. An hour before a pleasure car had run off the bridge, drowning Miss Octavia Van Dyke, 24 years old.

Eighteen Year Term.

Wytheville, Va., Oct. 20.—In the Wythe circuit court here yesterday Sherman Kegley confessed to the murder of Mrs. Glen Hurt. Judge Campbell imposed a sentence of eighteen years in the state penitentiary. The prisoner shot his victim at her home in this place last August. Kegley has been engaged in the industrial insurance business in this section for some years.

This makes the second trial disposed of in the Wythe circuit court this week, the accused in both receiving sentences of eighteen years in the penitentiary. The other case was against Fred Allen, who killed J. L. Lawson, a merchant of Ivanhoe. Allen is a near relative of the Allens, who shot up the Hillsville court officials several years ago for which two were electrocuted and three more are serving long terms in the State prison.
